B O U R N E (Borne) (Bourn)

From an old letter of James M. Bourne, this information concerning the early Bournes is gathered:

"My earliest account of the Bourne family being in America I get from Capt. John Smith's account of his sail up the 'Chesapeake' Bay in the year 1607 or 1608. James Bourne was his name and he was one of the six gentlemen Smith took with him on his 'Voyage of Discovery'.

"One of the upper 'poynts', I think, on the eastern shore was named 'Bourne's Poynt.'

"My father was born in Culpeper County, Va., May 5, 1790. His father James Bourne was born in Orange County, Va., 1759; his father, Henry, resided in Orange County as early as 1747 and was then married. Henry's father is said to have been John Bourne, the son of John Bourne."

In a letter received by the above James M. Bourne, he was given this information:

"My aunt writes me that when a girl she heard her grandfather, John Newman, in a conversation with Jerry Morton, then in Congress, say that the Mortons, Bournes and Newmans came to Virginia in the same ship and that Morton replied 'Yes, and they have clung close together ever since.'"

Information and records from James M. Bourne (son of Walker Bourne):

"There were Bournes in Virginia as early as 1635, Robert Bourne having been accidentally drowned in that year. He had been a Burgess. I am inclined to think from what my father told me when a child that the Bourne who was with Smith was of my family."

In a letter to James M. Bourne, a Mr. Lewis H. Salin (whose wife was a Bourne) dated March 1892, this information is given:

"In conformity to your wish I give you a history of the Bournes as far as I know. I heard my father-in-law say that his father, Andrew Bourne, came from Virginia to Kentucky over one hundred years ago. There were four brothers who left Virginia about the same time, one by name of James Bourne, which I think is your grandfather." (Note by present write: This latter regarding James has been proved.)

Another old letter to James Bourne dated April 29, 1892, from J.A. (or S) Bourne says "I am descended from John Bourne, who came to Virginia in its early settlement, from England and settled near Fredericksburg."

In another letter from Capt. Daniel Bourne, of Nicholasville, Ky., dated Aug. 7, 1847, to his nephew Richard M. Young, concerning his mother's family, these statements were made:

"About 190 years ago my great grandfather Bourne with one brother and a sister came from England and settled about six miles from the town of Fredericksburg, Va., where he reared a family and died. He left his place to my grandfather, John Bourne, where my father, Francis Bourne, was born."

John Bourne, father of Francis, was John Bourne II, father of Henry Bourne. So that from the old letters in the Bourne family, copies of wills of various Bournes, and other records gathered since these letters were written, the following descent is given:-

1. John Bourne, 1st, from Plymouth, Devon, England.
2. John Bourne, 2nd, (Essex County, Va.) b.1690, d.1720, married Elizabeth _____ b. 1695,
d.1760
3. Henry Bourne

3. Henry Bourne

3. Henry Bourne

Following is copy of photostat of letter written to the Honorable Richard M. Young, Commissioner of the Land Office, Washington, D.C. August 7, 1847, by his uncle Capt. Daniel Bourne of Nicholasville, Jessamine County, Ky., soldier of 1812 war, youngest son of Francis Bourne, Rev. Soldier of Virginia who moved to Kentucky.

The great grandfather of Capt. Daniel Bourne, who came from England "one hundred and ninety years ago" (1657) was John Bourne II, father of Henry Bourne who married Ann Morton. You have the will of John Bourne in which he mentions his son Henry.

STOUT LILLARD

April 17, 1935.

Nicholasville, Ky.,
August 7, 1847.

"Dear Nephew:

"I cannot now take time to make you an apology for not having sooner answered your letter, as I have no excuse which would stand the test of scrutiny, I will not therefore attempt it.

"To begin with the subject of your interrogatives in relation to your mother's family, I will merely promise that to answer them all in full amplitude would fill and octave volume. This is what no man living can do. I can come as near perhaps as any other person, having nothing to guide me at present but mere recollections; as the old family Bible fell into the hands of Brother Ambrose Bourne after my father's death, with the register of the Births, Marriages, Deaths, etc., of our family, which I have not seen for forty years. But so much of the history of our family as I do recollect and what I learned from my father Francis Bourne (your grandfather) I will here narrate:-

"About one hundred and ninety years ago, my great grandfather Bourne (your great great grandfather) with one brother and a sister came from England and settled about six miles from the town of Fredericksburg, in Virginia, where he reared a family and died. He left his place to my grandfather John Bourne (your great grandfather) where my father Francis Bourne (your grandfather) was born. In the year 1734 when my father was only seven years of age, my grandfather sold his place near Fredericksburg and moved to Culpeper County, Va., about forty miles distant, and settled on the Rapidan River, it being then a frontier place and abounding with wild game.

"My grandfather John Bourne married a woman by the name of Ramsey, by whom he had three children, to-wit:

1. Sarah Bourne
2. Francis Bourne (my father and your grandfather)
3. William Bourne

"William Bourne died when scarcely a man, before the Revolution.

Sarah Bourne married Spencer Branham and moved to Kentucky in 1795, bringing with them a large family of children and settled near Georgetown in Scott County. They were a highly respectable family; but have long since all gone to that 'bourn' from whence no traveler returns. Their children and grandchildren are scattered over the land and are as numerous as the leaves of Autumn.

"My grandfather, after having three children by his first wife, as above mentioned, (who died), married a second time, a woman named Davie, by whom he had eight children--six daughters and two sons-- to-wit:

1. John Bourne
2. William Bourne
3. Susannah Bourne
4. Jane Bourne
5. Catharine Bourne
6. Elizabeth Bourne
7. Hannah Bourne
8. Nelly Bourne

"These children are all dead except one, who was alive three months ago. She married her cousin Reuben Bourne who has been dead thirty years. She is still living (A.D. 1847) with her son in Marion Co., Missouri, and is a very old woman.

"My grandfather died about the year 1760, being about 65 years of age- my mother's (your grandmother) original maiden name being Frances Christopher, born and reared in Culpeper County, Virginia. She was born in 1736 and was married to my father, Francis Bourne (your grandfather), in 1757. They had ten children, five sons and five daughters, to-wit:

1. Tabitha Bourne, born 1758
2. William Bourne 1761
3. Lucy Bourne
4. Agness Bourne
5. Abner Bourne
6. Ambrose Bourne
7. Fanny Bourne (your mother) b. 1776
8. Philadelphia Bourne, born January 10, 1778.
9. John Bourne, born November 1780
10. Daniel Bourne, born October 10, 1785.

"I will now tell you something of what I know about the families of my brothers and sisters (your uncles and aunts) according to my best recollection. William, my eldest brother, died July 1804, leaving nine children, seven ~~males~~ daughters and two sons, all of whom are dead except the two eldest, to-wit, Francis Bourne and Nancy Hospine, who has been a widow for many years. I have not seen her for twenty-five years. The widow of brother William Bourne (your uncle) died about two years ago (1845), being upwards of 80 years old. Her maiden name was Hawkins. Sister Tabitha, (your aunt married William White in 1791, and died in 1792, leaving an infant daughter, bearing her mother's name. At the usual age she married Morton Bourne who some fifteen years ago moved to Marion County, Mo., where she died about four years ago (A.D. 1843)

"Sister Lucy, as you know, married Francis Lowen in the year 1784, by whom she had thirteen children, to-wit:

1. Francis Lowen, Junr.
2. Sally
3. Lucy
4. Rebecca who died when a child
5. Fanny who died when a child.
6. Benjamin
7. James
8. Susan
9. William
10. Polly
11. Lewis
12. Agnes
13. Morton, who died when a child

"Lucy Lowen married John Jeffries, who had three children, two sons and a daughter. The daughter is dead and the mother died more than 37 years ago, and the boys have gone to Oregon Territory. Sister Lucy Lowen (your aunt) died in February 1837. Some of her children are still living in this neighborhood, near Nicholasville, in Jessamine County, to-wit: James, William, Lewis and Polly, who married a certain William Kobrager, from whom she was subsequently divorced after having one son and two daughters, the youngest of whom is 20 years old and was married the other day to Dr. John Welch, who is an excellent scholar and clever fellow.

"Benjamin Lowen is still living in Franklin County, where he married, the place where we ate breakfast together on the 17th day of March 1816, when I was going to St. Louis and accompanied Ben for the purpose of seeing him married. The night before you will remember we stayed at old Mr. Carroll's when a setting hen was robbed of her eggs for our supper. That was a notable night.

"Sister Agness (your aunt) married John Hudson by whom she had 10 children, two sons and eight daughters, to-wit:

1. James Hudson
2. Sally Hudson
3. David Hudson
4. Fanny Hudson
5. Margaret Hudson
6. Mildred Hudson
- 7, 8, 9, 10."

(Note by Josie Gossett: From here on the facts are given though not exactly quoted.)

James lived to be more than 40 years of age, Sally married her cousin Francis Lowen, Junr. David married a daughter of Gen. John Smith of Fayette County; he moved to Missouri some fifteen years ago, died about ten years later, leaving his widow and one single daughter. Shortly after David's death, Brother Joshua Hudson, his father, went to Missouri where he died shortly after. Sister Agness died about 14 years ago, Brother Ambrose Bourne (your uncle) died October 1823. He had married a third wife by whom he had one child, the widow and child both long since dead. The children of his first two wives I know little about, but so far as I know or have heard they are all doing very well.

Philadelphia Bristow, your aunt, has been dead about 18 years and your uncle Archibald Bristow as I have understood, some months. He died in Bourbon County, Ky., at one of his sons-in-law; he married my sister Philadelphia in 1797.

Your father, Abner Young, was married to my sister Frances whom we always called Fanny (your mother) in 1792 by a Baptist Preacher, Thomas Ammon. I do not know by whom my father and mother (your grandfather and grandmother Bourne) but some Episcopalian Minister of course as both belonged to the Church of England at that time and the name Baptist had not at that time found its way in that part of Virginia.

Brother John Bourne lives one and a half miles from Nicholasville. He married Betsy Arnold in 1801, had 7 sons and 4 daughters, two sons and a daughter deceased, the others living. One son resides in Missouri, and the rest in Jessamine County. The eldest daughter, Plinor is the widow Ballard, has 4 children and resides in Nicholasville. Most of the children are yet single-- the youngest being 25 years of age.

Brother Abner Bourne was married to Betsy Hayden in 1791, by whom he has had 7 sons and one daughter, all living but one son who died young. These all live in Lewis County, Missouri, or adjoining county where sister Betsy died in 1846, aged about 76 years. Brother Abner is now (1847) in his 79th year and quite active for one of his age. He, John and myself are all of ten who are now living. I do not know what further biographical sketches I can furnish you but these are all true as far as they go though furnished from memory.

I do add that your grandfather, my father, Francis Bourne, came to Kentucky in the year 1780, stayed about 3 months at Boonesborough, explored the surrounding country, killing many deer and buffalo very poor as that was the Spring after the memorable hard winter of 1779-80.

My father was much pleased with the country, its fertility and beautiful water courses, but on account of Indian hostilities deemed it imprudent to bring his family, but four years later many emigrants bid adieu to old Virginia and started for the wilds of Kentucky. He purchased 400 acres, situate in what is now Jessamine County, without having seen it or any person who had seen it, and after a fatiguing journey of more than three months arrived safely, found his land, was pleased with it and his bones now rest beneath the green turf where he made his first settlement. He died July 20, 1803, and my mother died in February 1816.

When we first settled in Kentucky only five or six families lived within the bounds of Jessamine County--far apart. Not a mill and no breadstuff to be had nearer than 25 miles, in Lincoln County. The Kentucky River, with high cliffs, to cross, at that early day not an easy task. The present generation knows nothing of the difficulties, privations, and dangers which were encountered by the first settlers of this country. (Then 1847--what about 1947, J.G.?)

The first work my father did was to make a "hand mill" of limestone rock. He had brought picks with him for that purpose, knowing what we should want and for four years this was our only dependence for meal and flour; and a very good makeshift it was for us. The neighbors for miles around were very glad to have the benefit of this handmill. At the end of four years my father and brother William Bourne made a water mill which is a fine mill even to this day.

The company which came through the wilderness with my father's family consisted of about 300 people, mostly women, children and negroes; not many guns or efficient gunner and no real Indian fighters among us; so the whole company would have fallen in easy prey to 15 or more Indians. It so happened that while Indians were killing and destroying emigrating companies both before and behind us, they did not discover or molest our defenseless company on the whole route. Our whole company however came near starving to death, when the friendly settlers then living at the "Crab Orchard" heard of our situation, loaded some horses with meat and pumpkin bread and came to our relief. They met us about 80 miles from the "crab orchard" which place we could never have reached had it not been for this friendly and well-timed relief.

I had very nearly forgotten to give you some biographical sketch of my own family. I have seven children living and two daughters dead. My daughter Isabella died 15 years ago, age 13, which caused me many a pang; I doted on her much--perhaps too much. My daughter Margaret married Charles Conby, had one son, age 6 years, and died 3 years ago. My eldest sons, Andrew, married Nancy Bishop of Owen County, died four years ago, leaving two children, a boy age 6 and a girl age 8. We are now living in Nicholasville, these children going to school and my old wife acts the part of mother and grandmother toward them. I have one son who has not married and shows no disposition that way. I have another son, Washington, who married Nancy Todd, of Owen County 18 years ago; he lives in that county, doing well and they have two children. My daughter Caroline married Mahlon Rogers, lives in Danville and they have four children. My youngest daughter, Lucy, married James Dickerson, and they have 4 children and live in the neighborhood of Nicholasville.

I have with pleasure heard of your good luck, as I choose to call it, in getting a good office at Washington under the administration of the best of Presidents.... and when James Folk's term of office shall expire, may he only see his place filled by something like an equal.

Please present me most affectionately to your wife and daughters and to your brother Coleby and his family. I must refer you for scraps of news to my friend Col. McClure, such as I cannot now write and in the meantime you will receive the assurance of my esteem and affection.

Your affectionate uncle,
Daniel Bourne

To the Honorable
Richard H. Young,
Commissioner of General Land Office
Washington, D.C.
August 7, 1847."

Extracts of letter from James H. Bourne to
M. J. Hadley, Des Moines, Ia.

In addition to earlier quotes in this compilation the following is given:

Another great grandfather of mine, Enoch Smith, came from Prince William County, Virginia in 1775, to what is now Kentucky.

One of his sisters and her husband are buried in Centerville, Va., over which the first battle of Manassas was fought. I am informed by the County Clerk of Prince William that nearly all of the records were destroyed during the war.

Many of the Bournes in Missouri are of my Bourne family. Some of them live in Lewis County. One of them was a member of the last Legislature. His grandfather William Bourne was a brother of my grandfather James Bourne. William and another brother married Misses Bourne--their kinfolk. The Misses Bourne were children of John Bourne and their mother was Ellen Davis before marriage. Their brother John was in the Revolution. My grandfather Bourne was in the Revolution.

Henry Bourne married Ann (Nancy) Morton and had the following children:

1. John Bourne ("Mar. Mary Brock, daughter of Henry Brock
2. William Bourne, mar. and wife, Barbara. By line.
Catherine Bourne Mary Barbara Lockhart.")
3. James Bourne, mar. Elizabeth Gore
4. Andrew Bourne, mar. Janet Gore
5. George Bourne
6. Elijah Bourne
7. Thomas Bourne
8. Betty Bourne, mar. Leuten Finnell
9. Susan Bourne, mar. White
10. Leuten Bourne, mar. Hannah Bourne
11. Frankie Bourne mar. Robert Waters

These and names of Robert, Joseph and Ambrose about cover all the anti-revolutionary names of my Bourne family.

SUPPLEMENTAL LIST FOR DAUGHTERS OF AMERICAN COLONISTS
THROUGH WILLIAM NORTON, PLANTER, OF ORANGE COUNTY, VA.
(Ray Stone)

Children of William Norton and Ann Hathorhead:

Capt. Jeremiah Norton, mar. Sarah Mallory
Ann Norton (called Nancy) mar. Henry Bourne 1745
Elizabeth Norton, mar. Thos. Newman,
Mary Norton, mar. Minor or Morris
Jane Norton, mar. Andrew Bourne.
Daughter mar. John Christopher
George Norton (grandson in will) mar. Margaret Strother
Mildan Norton mar. Elizabeth Hawkins
John (under age 1747) mar. Bourne, sister of Henry and Andrew Bourne

Daniel Norton in Virginia Magazine, Vol. 17, page 311, says none of the children of William Norton were of age in 1734-35.

Children of Henry Bourne and wife Ann Norton

(Note by Josie Gossett - these have heretofore been given.
Noting further - by referring to will of William Norton, instead of "Daughter" who married John Christopher, it should be granddaughter and her name is Frances. Also George is mentioned in will as grandson (married Margaret Strother), son of Mildan.)

WILLIAM NORTON died 1747
married ANN HATHORHEAD

These are given above and in some places it is stated "Daughter married ---- Christopher and grand daughter Frances Christopher,
mar. Francis Bourne."

The will gives granddaughter, Frances Christopher.

JAMES BOURNE, son of Henry and Anne (Nancy Norton) Bourne, was born in Orange County, Virginia, 1757. Mar. in 1788, in Culpepper County, Elizabeth Gore, born in Westmoreland County.

Walker Bourne was born at Raccoon Ford, on Rapodan River in Culpeper County, Va. May 6, 1790.

James Bourne's wife, Elizabeth, died in Virginia before 1802
when he moved to Kentucky with his four children and his wife's sister, Fanny Gore. They made the trip in a wagon over the Cumberland Gap--Walker being 12 years old and Nancy 4. Nancy carried her drinking gourd and when they stopped at a spring she would ask for "a 'little drink out of my 'little gourd". They settled on Spencer Creek in Montgomery County, about four miles from Mt. Sterling, Ky., where James lived until he went to live with his son Walker (eight miles from Mt. Sterling on Flat Creek) a short time before his death June 1, 1847. He was buried there in the family graveyard, and after the death of his son, Walker Bourne, in 1873, all the family were moved to the Lexington, Ky. Cemetery where a tall shaft is inscribed with their names. James Bourne's name is also on the bronze table for Revolutionary Soldiers in the Court House at Lexington, Ky.

(I have pictures of this old home in Orange County in 1790, two views of it, in book in which other family pictures of houses, tombstones, etc., are pasted, book entitled "Who am I?" Note by Josie Gossett.

BOURNE FAMILY

By J.H. Bourne
(Uncle of writer)

Will Book B, Culpeper County, Va., John Walker, 1st, will dated December 27, 1775, proved April 16, 1776, wife named Isabel, born Fannill.

Names of children:

1. Janet Walker
2. Elizabeth Walker
3. Mary Walker
4. Benjamin Walker
5. John Walker, youngest child

Witnesses to Will Oliver Clarke, Reuben and Mary Clark.
In 1764 John Walker makes deed to Bernard Moore.

Janet Walker married John Gore
Children:

1. Janet Gore married Andrew Bourne (brother of James)
2. John Gore
3. Benjamin Gore
4. Elizabeth Gore married James Bourne 1783.
5. Katy Gore married Reynolds
6. Mary Gore married Chambers
7. Katy Gore married William Stevens (kinsman of Gen.
8. Fanny Gore married Branham Stevens)

All descendants of Benjamin Gore who were able to bear arms were in the Confederate Army. Chambers was the mother of Walker Chambers and Gen. Thomas Jefferson Chambers, a thoroughly educated man, a fine lawyer, who gave $10,000 to the Texans in their war for independence, by far the most accomplished man in the war. He was an accomplished linguist and spoke Spanish as correctly as any Spaniard. Mrs. Stevens named a son Walker. Mrs. Bourne named a son Walker, the ancestor of Miss Stone and Miss Gossett. I know all three well. In 1870 or about that time, a Mr. Taylor who had been a Confederate soldier, was in Springfield, Ill., making observations of the earth's magnetism for the U.S. Government. He was from Eastern Virginia. I told my father of it and he replied Mr. Taylor was probably a kinsman, the Walkers and Taylors having intermarried before the Revolution.

James Bourne and Elizabeth Gore Bourne had the following children:

1. Walker Bourne married Willey Belfield Jameson
2. Morton Bourne married Evaline Smith, a second cousin of Willey Jameson Bourne

3. John Bourne died single.
4. Nancy/Bourne married 1- John Jones
2- Nicholas Jones
3- Samuel Rankin

John Gore's will was taken by the United States Soldiers.

GORE FAMILY

Gen. 1

Gore, from Ireland (Presbyterians)

 - 3- Mary (or Polly) mar. Thomas Chambers (see other pages)
 - 4- Fanny Gore mar. Branham, separated, came to Kentucky with James Bourne's family, 1802, d. after 1850
 - 5- Patsy Gore, mar. Reynolds, and they had William, b. Mar. 25, 1780 and James b. Mar. 9, 1797.
 - 6- Elizabeth Gore mar. James Bourne 1783 (see records)
 - 7- Catherine mar. William Stevens, June 3, 1799.
 - 8-9 Peggy and Fanny, both were struck by lightning in Virginia; Peggy was killed, Fanny lay in an unconscious condition for some time, revived and lived to a good old age; lived with the family of her sister, Elizabeth Gore Bourne, wife of James Bourne.

Benjamin Gore (above) who married Polly Keith had following children:

- 1- Matilda Gore mar. Smart
- 2- Amanda mar. David Henry had son Hugh Henry
- 3- Eliza Gore mar. Henry Bramlette- children, Pannill Bramlett and Anna Bramlette who married a Campbell
- 4- Fanny Gore, mar. Rice

Mr. James M. Bourne,

Dear Sir:

Yours of July 8th was recd. in due time, and would have been answered sooner but was waiting to get the advise of one of Col. Young's descendants.
The address of Mrs. Jennie Jones, Treasury Dept., Washington City, D. C. She I think is a granddaughter of Col. Young. She can furnish the history which Col.
Young wrote. The address I give as I got it, write to her and if you fail to hear from her, inform me.

My great, great grandfather was John Bourne, father of Francis Bourne. Francis' brothers and sisters were: Sarah Bourne, William Bourne, John Bourne, Susannah, Jane, Catherine, Elizabeth, Hannah and Nelly.

My daughter copied record of my father's family and omitted the marriages, these you can get from brother
W.W.

Let me hear from you.

Very truly,

Dear Miss Stone:

I have gotten the records which I found in the old family Bible. Some of these may be found in my brother's paper for I am not familiar enough to know whether he had any recent records among them.

There are a whole lot of Bournes living around Clarksville, Tenn., who are descendants of Ambrose Dudley Bourne, 4th child of Ambrose Bourne. I collected some information concerning his thirteen children and will send this to you as soon as I get it together in a readable form. Some of his descendants live up at Detroit, Texas, and he has a granddaughter at Fort Worth, Texas.

Did you ever hear from a Mr. Louis Bourne, of Asheville, N. C.? He was very much interested in Bourne history. If he ever wrote to you and you have his address, would you please let me have it as I would like to write to him.

Maybe you know it; but he is the grandson of Milton Bourne, 1st child of Ambrose Bourne.

There is a Louis N. Bourne living here in Dallas whom I want to see. His name sounds as tho he may be related.

Did you receive the book I sent you with the history of William Bourne in it? Can you connect him with Francis Bourne?

Hoping this information will help you. I will send this information about Dudley Bourne when I get it copied in readable shape.

Yours very sincerely,

Richard D. Bourne.

E. D. Hadley, Esq.,
Des Moines, Iowa.

Dear Sir:

My earliest account of the Bourne family being in America I get from Capt. John Smith's account of his sail up the Chesapeake Bay in the year 1607 or 1608. James Bourne was his name, and he was one of the six gentlemen Smith took with him in his "Voyage of Discovery."

One of the upper "poynts", I think on the Eastern Shore, was named "Bourne's Poynt".

My father was born in Culpeper County, Va., May 5th, 1790; his father, James, was born in Orange County, Va. in 1759; his father, Henry resided in Orange as early as 1747 and was then married. His father is said to have been John Bourne the son of John Bourne. There were Bournes in Virginia as early as 1635 - Robert Bourne having been accidentally drowned in that year. He had been a Burgess, I am inclined to think, from what my father told me when I was a child, that the Bourne who was with Smith was of my family.

Another great grand father of mine, Enoch Smith, came from Prince William County, Virginia, in 1775, to what is now Kentucky. One of his sisters and her husband are buried in Centreville, Va., over which the first battle of Manassas was fought. I am informed by the County Clerk of Prince William, that nearly all of the records were destroyed during the war.

Many of the Bournes in Missouri are of my Bourne family. Some of them live in Lewis County. One of them was a member of the last Legislature. His grandfather, William Bourne was a brother of my grandfather, James Bourne. William and another brother married two Misses Bourne - their kinfolk. The Misses Bourne were children of John Bourne and their mother was Ellen Davis before marriage. Their brother, John Bourne was in the Revolution. My grandfather Bourne was in the Revolution.

Henry Bourne married Ann (Nancy) Morton, and had the following children:

- 1 John Bourne, 2
 - 2 William Bourne, 2, married Catharine Bourne
 - 3 James Bourne, 2, married Elizabeth Gore
- 12

- 4 Andrew Bourne 2, married Janet Gore
- 5 George Bourne, 2
- 6 Elijah Bourne, 2
- 7 Thomas Bourne, 2
- 8 Betty Bourne, 2, married Reubin Finnell
- 9 Susan Bourne, 2, married _____ White
- 10 Reuben Bourne, 2, married Hannah Bourne
- 11 Frankie Bourne, 2, married Robert Waters

These and the names of Robert, Joseph, Ambrose about cover all the Anti-Revolutionary names of my Bourne family.

James M. Bourne.

EXTRACT OF LETTER TO J. M. BOURNE.

Nicholasville, Ky.
April 28, 1893.

James M. Bourne,

Dear Sir:

William Bourne, (son of Henry and brother of James Bourne) was born in Virginia in 1753, and died in Jessamine County in 1826. His wife, whose Christian name was Catherine, died in 1834.

Roger Bourne, who was a grandson of Elijah Bourne, whose father was Wm. Bourne, who married Mary Ann Patton, the daughter of James Patton, died in our town in 1869.

Elijah Bourne's first wife was Lucy Lowens, his second wife was an old girl, Miss Egbert of Woodford County, Ky. She died in 1839. He never married any more, lived and died at the home of Davis Bourne, his youngest son in 1854, 86 years old.

Francis Bourne and Andrew Bourne were mustered free when the Revolution Commenced in 1775, but when the traitor Arnold in 1781 invaded Virginia. I have heard Daniel Bourne tell that his father and Uncle Andrew were placed over many negroes to cut down trees and blockade the roads when Arnold was marching to attack Richmond. James Irving who was born in Virginia in 1754 and died as the last of the Revolutionary. Soldiers in our county told me that Francis and Andrew Bourne were mustered free but with the assistance of neighbors and the negroes who were impressed obstructed the march of Arnold many weeks, and he was not able to do much damage. Andrew Bourne died in Jessamine County in 1815. I send you the names of the children of Francis Bourne in the order of their birth, copies from his Will, made June 2, 1803.

Daniel Bourne

Reuben Bourne, if I am not mistaken, was a brother of Elijah Bourne. He had one son, Joseph, and five daughters. In his will he only mentions the name of Joseph and Hannah, which was made and recorded in 1807.

Reuben Finney married Mildred Bourne, daughter of Andrew Bourne, and a sister of Elijah Bourne. (9)

I know Andrew B. Finney and John, whose sister Milly married Robert Duncan, a second cousin in 1816. All dead except Charles Duncan, who was living at Shelbina, Shelby County, Mo.

Very respectfully,

SAMUEL M. DUNCAN.

ENTRIES TAKEN FROM OLD BIBLE OF
FRANCIS BOURNE.

Name.	Date of birth.	Date of death.
Francis Bourne, Sen.	12th of Sept.	28th of July, 1803

No record of marriage of Francis Bourne, tho' he evidently married Frances Christopher, as following entries immediately following above indicate.

Wanny Bourne, daughter to Francis Bourne and Frances, his wife, was born July 1, 1775.

Phila Bourne, daughter to Francis Bourne and Frances, his wife, was born January 10th, 1773 or 2.

Another daughter (from same parents, I think) was born as nearly as I could make out A.D. 1758 anno mundi, plainly, - 5767; she died, I think, in 1800 at age of 42 years.

Some son - looks like Francis - same parents - was born on Thursday, January A.D. 1761 A.M. 5770.

Lucy Bourne (I guess Lucy), daughter to same parents, born on Wednesday the 22nd day of ____ A.D., 1764 - A.M. 5773.

Agnes Bourne (I think it is Agnes), daughter to same parents, was born on Thursday, February 12, A.D., 1767 - A.M. 5776.

Abner Bourne, son of same parents, on Thursday, November 30th, A.D. 1769; A.M. 5778.

Ambrose Bourne, son of same parents, on Saturday, the 12th day of September, 1772 A.M. 5781.

Half page of the old Bible on which there were evidently entries were torn here. The next entry is as follows:

The Rev. Ambrose Bourne was born the 12th of September, 1772 and died the 13th of October, 1823; his funeral was preached by William Warder and Leonard Page, Warder from 1st Cor. 15 Chapter 56-57 verses. Page from Mathew 24 Chapter - 46 verses.

John (looks as if John had been rubbed out - then plainly) Milton Bourne and Catherine Bourne, his wife, were married on the 20th of November, 1823.

M. Bourne was born September 16, 1800.

Catherine White Bourne was born April 11, 1800 and daughter of Jos. Wimberly, Sr.

At another place in the old Bible, I find these entries:

Daniel Bourne, son of Francis Bourne and Frances, his wife, was born October 10th in the year of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ 1783.

Francis Bourne, son of And W. Bourne and Jane, his wife, was born on Wednesday the 11th day of February about _____ o'clock in the afternoon Anno Dom. 1761 Anno Mundi 5770.

My father, John Bourne, was born about the middle of September, 1707 and died a sudden death on March (I can't make out) 1774.

John Bourne, son of Francis Bourne and Frances, his wife, on Friday (apparently) 24th day of November, about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Anno Dom. 1750. I guess 1750. Anno Mundi 5759 - as nearly as I can make out.

TO THE EDITOR:
I am writing to you to inform you of the results of my research on the properties of the new material which I have discovered. The material has many interesting properties and I believe it will be of great value to the scientific community.

I have been working on this project for several months and I have found that the material has a unique structure and a high degree of stability. I have also found that it has a very low melting point and a high boiling point.

I have been very fortunate to have discovered this material and I am very excited about the results of my research. I believe that this material will have many applications in the field of chemistry and I am looking forward to sharing my findings with the scientific community.

BY S. M. DUNCAN.

One of the most remarkable men about our town when I was a boy was Daniel Bourne. He was a gentleman of the "olden times"; a most generous man, faithful in friendship, frank, ardent, and full of kindly feelings for his fellow-man in every relation in life. He had probably a more extended personal acquaintance than any man in Jessamine County. He had grown up among its people, and being habitual knew almost everybody, and his genial and hearty manners rendered him personally popular with all who enjoyed his acquaintance and friendship. There was something of a placid dignity in his aspect of politeness, not of form, but of sentiment in his manner of mildness undebased by flattery. In his conversation his look had something above the cares, but not the charities of this world, and over a caste of seriousness, and perhaps melancholy; that seemed to be reserved for himself, there was an easy cheerfulness and now and then a gaiety that spoke to the innocent pleasures of life a language of indulgence and kindness of heart that made him a welcome guest wherever he was known.

Daniel Bourne was as pure a personage of benevolence as ever lived; there was within him that divine sympathy for all around him that brings man, in what man can alone emulate the angels so near to his creator. With all his goodness of soul, there was nothing approaching to weakness or even misjudging softness. But he had seen and struggled with the world and to this without doubt, was one great secret of his influence over the early settlers of our town and county. It is to the influence which men such as he have exerted upon our community, that many of its characteristic customs, its habits of thought and life, are to be traced. With a little observation you can see there is not much respect shown to "First Families", who pride themselves on the aristocracy of wealth. Pride and ignorance are the source of such aristocracy in a town and community. It is generally seen among ignorant people, and those who are badly trained at home.

Daniel was color-bearer in the company of Infantry commanded by Capt. James Price in the War of 1812. He was in the battle of Raisin, the siege of Malden, and the battle of the Thames. Many years ago and about five years before his death, he gave me the following interesting

FAMILY RECORD.

Francis Bourn was his father, and was born in the present limits of Culpepper County, Virginia, July 5, 1727, and was married to Frances Christopher in 1757. His wife was also born in Culpepper County, Va., in 1736. Francis Bourn and his family settled in the county of Fayette, embracing the present limits of Jessamine County, in the year 1783, where both of them died. He died July 20, 1813, and she died on the 8th of February, 1816. Francis Bourn was an older brother of Andrew Bourn, who settled in Kentucky in 1786. He was the father of the late Elijah Bourn, who died at the residence of Davis Bourne, his youngest son, in 1854, aged 86 years. Elijah Bourn was the maternal grandfather of Elijah B. Muir. Francis Bourn was the father of ten children, five sons and five daughters. Tabitha Bourn was born in 1758; William Bourn in 1767; Lucy in 1769; Agnes in 1771; Ambrose in 1773; and Fanny in 1776 -- and she was the grandmother to R. M. Young; Philadelphia Bourn was born in 1778; Daniel Bourn -- born October 10, 1783. His father was 57 years old when Daniel was born. John Bourn, father of the late Isaac Bourn, was born in 1780. act p 14

Tabitha Bourn married William White in 1791, and died in 1792, leaving one child named after mother, Tabitha White. She at the usual age married Morton Bourn, and moved to Marion County, Mo., in 1832, where she died in 1843.

William Bourn died in 1804, leaving nine children, seven sons and two daughters, all dead in 1847, except the two eldest, Fanny Bourn and Nancy Hoskins, the latter the widow of William Bourn, died in 1845. She was in her 81st year. Her maiden name was Hawkins, sister of Mose Hawkins, Sr., the father of Mrs. Betsy Cook, mother of Rev. T. B. Cook. Mose Hawkins died in the British Providence of Ontario in 1832.

Lucy Bourn married Francis Lowens in 1784. They had thirteen children and all died in Jessamine County many years ago.

Agnes Bourn married the Rev. Joshua Hudson, by whom she had a number of children. Mr. Hudson was a Baptist Preacher, maternal grandfather of Franklin Miles.

Abner Bourn married Elizabeth Haydon in 1791, by whom he had seven sons and one daughter. One son died young. The others were living in Clark County, Mo. His wife died in 1846, aged 76 years. He was living in 1847 in the 79th year of his age. The names of his two sons were Levi and Whitfield.

Ambrose Bourn was a Baptist preacher; he married three wives in the course of his life, and died in South-Western Kentucky in 1823, leaving several children, among them was Mrs. Piety Fort Grizzard.

Fanny Bourn, grandmother of R. M. Young, married Abner Young in 1792. They had nine children, four sons and five daughters, to-wit: Martin, Polly, R. M., Sally, Louisa Ann, Agnes, John Jefferson, Colby -- all dead.

Philadelphia Bourn, born Jan. 10, 1778, married Archibald Bristow on June 26, 1797, by whom he had twelve children. Archibald Bristow died in 1846, and his wife many years before. Francis M. Bristow, a member of Congress in 1847 and 1853, was one of his sons, and was born two miles east of Nicholasville on the farm now owned by Mrs. Mary Ann Bourn, widow of Davis Bourn. He was born in Feb. 1798, married a Miss Helm, was the father of Benjamin H. Bristow, whose name in 1875 was honorably mentioned as a Presidential candidate to succeed General Grant.

John Bourn, brother of Daniel, (See Postscript on page 4.

Pauline Bourn was the daughter of John Bourn. She was married to Thomas H. Ballard in 1831, by whom she had three sons and one daughter. The writer of this notice, when a mere lad, was personally acquainted with Mrs. Ballard. She was truly a christian lady, and was eminently qualified to be a good wife. At an early age she made a public profession of religion, and as she grew in years the graces of her christian character grew in fair proportion. She was gentle by nature, and grace had so refined her spirit that her words and acts revealed the meekness, tenderness and love that dwelt in her soul. The law of kindness was on her lips, as well as its power in heart. But she lacked not energy -- a gift not always in those who are gentle. Her symmetrical character had strength and action, as well as grace and beauty. God gave her four children, and such a group might well engage a mother's heart and hands to the exclusion of every other care; but she was faithful to them, and was a helpmate for her husband. She lightened his burdens and gladdened all his path. In the midst of her days, when she was ripe for usefulness, it pleased God to transfer her to another sphere. She died in Lexington, Ky., July 19, 1886, in her 80th year. Her husband, Thomas H. Ballard, died in 1843. She lived a widow forty-four years.

Daniel Bourn married Margaret Dillard in 1800. He had seven children. One of his daughters, Isabella, died in 1882; aged thirteen years. Margaret married Charles Cosby. His eldest son, Andrew Bourn, married Nancy Bishop, of Owen County, Ky. She died in 1842, leaving one son and daughter, Dr. Morton L., and Miss Belle. Washington Bourn married Nancy Todd, Caroline married Mahlon Rogers; both died in Indiana several years ago. Lucy Bourn, youngest daughter, married James Dikerson, and both died ten or twelve years ago.

Jonathan Jones, grandfather to ex-representative W. T. Jones, married America Bourn in 1826; both dead.

T. Jefferson Bourn died in 1858, unmarried.

Francis M. Bourn is the only one of Daniel Bourn's children living. He is the youngest son; lives in Lawrenceburg, Ky.; aged 66 years.

In Texas there is a landed estate valued at sixty or seventy thousand dollars that the heirs of Francis Bourn are entitled to. Also in Culpepper County, Va., there is another valued at thirty thousand dollars in lands, which the heirs are looking after.

Francis Bourn, as stated above, settled in Kentucky in 1783, and his descendants are scattered over the south and west. It is almost impossible to trace or identify them after the lapse of a century.

John W. Bourn, who died in Richmond, Ky., a few years ago, was the son of Moses Bourn. He was born near Nicholasville in 1804. He was County Judge of Madison County in 1858.

S.M. Duncan.

P.S. John Bourn, brother of Daniel Bourn, and the father of the late Isaac Bourn, was married to Elizabeth Arnold in 1801. They had seven sons and four daughters, all dead except Miss Lucy and her youngest brother, John Milton.

FAMILY RECORD.

II - NARRATIVE.

Concerning the ancestors and relatives of Richard M. Young, on his mother's side, as furnished by a letter written to him by his uncle, Captain Daniel Bourne, of Nicholasville, Jessamine County, Kentucky, dated August 7th, 1847.

"Nicholasville, Kentucky"
August 7, 1847.

"Dear Nephew,"

"I cannot now take time to make you an apology for not having sooner answered your letter, as I have no excuse, which would stand the test of scrutiny, I will not therefore attempt it.

"To begin with the subject of your interrogatories in relation to your mother's family, I will merely premise, that to answer them all, in full amplitude, would fill an octav volume. This is what no man living can now do. I can come as near perhaps as any other person, having nothing to guide me at present but mere recollection; as the old family Bible (Louis M. Bourne, Attorney, Asheville, N.C., has the Bible referred. He sent me a copy of the notations therein. See papers. W.R. Bourne, 1925). fall into the hands of Brother Ambrose Bourne, after my Father's death, with the register of the Births, marriages, deaths, etc. of our family; which I have not seen for forty years. But so much of the history of our family, as I do recollect, and what I learned from my Father, Francis Bourne, (your grandfather) I will here narrate:

"About one hundred and ninety years ago, my great grandfather Bourne (your great, great grandfather) with one brother and a sister, came from England, and settled about six miles from the town of Fredericksburg, in Virginia, where he reared a family and died. He left his place to my grandfather John Bourne (your great grandfather) where my father Francis Bourne (your grandfather) was born. In the year 1734 when my father was only seven years of age, my grandfather sold his place near Fredericksburg, and moved to Culpepper County, about forty miles distant, and settled on the Rapidan River, it being then a frontier place and abounding with wild game.

My grandfather John Bourne married a woman by the name of Ramsey, by whom he had three children, to-wit:

1. Sarah Bourne
2. Francis Bourne (my father, and your grandfather)
3. William Bourne

William Bourne died when scarcely a man before the Revolutionary War.

Sarah Bourne married Spender Branhan, and moved to Kentucky in 1795, bringing with them a large family of children, and settled near Georgetown, in Scott County. They were a highly respectable family; but have long since all gone to that "bourn" from whence no traveller returns. Their children and grandchildren are scattered over the land, and are as numerous as the leaves of autumn.

My grandfather, after having three children by his first wife as above mentioned, (who died) married a second time, a woman named Davis, by whom he had eight children. Six daughters and two sons, to-wit:

1. John Bourne
2. William Bourne
3. Susannah Bourne
4. Jane Bourne
5. Catherine Bourne
6. Elizabeth Bourne
7. Hannah Bourne
8. Polly Bourne

These children are all dead except one, who was alive three months ago. She married her cousin, Reuben Bourne, who has been dead about thirty years. She is still living (A.D. 1847) with her son in Marion County, in the State of Missouri, and is a very old woman.

My grandmother died about the year 1760, being about 65 years of age, my mother's (your grandmother) original maiden name was Frances Christopher, born and reared in Culpepper County, Virginia. She was born in 1736, and was married to my Father Francis Bourne, (your grandfather) in 1757. They had ten children, five sons, and five daughters, to-wit:

1. Tabitha Bourne, born 1758
2. William Bourne, born 1761
3. Lucy Bourne
4. Agness Bourne
5. Abner Bourne
6. Ambrose Bourne
7. Fanny Bourne (your mother) born 1776
8. Philadelphia Bourne, born January 10, 1778
9. John Bourne, born November, 1780
10. Daniel Bourne, born October 10, 1783

I will now tell you something of what I know about the families of my Brothers and sisters, (your uncles and aunts), according to my best recollection. William, my eldest brother, died July, 1804, leaving nine children, seven daughters, and two sons, all of whom are dead, except the two eldest, to-wit: Francis Bourne and Nancy Hoskins, who has been a widow for many years. I have not seen her for twenty five years. The widow of brother William Bourne (your uncle) died about two years ago (1845) being upwards of 80 years old. Her maiden name was Hawkins. Sister Tabitha (your aunt) married William White in 1791, and died in 1792, leaving an infant daughter only, bearing her mother's name. At the usual age she married Morton Bourne (IV) who some fifteen years ago moved to Marion County, Missouri, where she died about four years ago. (A.D. 1843)

Sister Lucy, as you know, married Francis Lowen in the year 1784, by whom she had thirteen children, to-wit:

1. Francis Lowen, Jr
2. Sally Lowen
3. Lucy Lowen
4. Rebecca Lowen, who died when a child
5. Fanny Lowen, who died when a child
6. Benjamin Lowen
7. James Lowen
8. Susan Lowen
9. William Lowen
10. Polly Lowen

11. Lewis Lowen
12. Agness Lowen
13. Morton Lowen, who died when very young.

Lucy Lowen married John Jeffries, and had three children; two sons and a daughter. The daughter is dead; and her mother died more than 37 years ago, and the boys have gone to Oregon Territory. Sister Lucy Lowen (your aunt) died in February, 1837. Some of her children are still living in this neighborhood, near Nicholasville, in Jessamine County; to-wit: James, William, Lewis, and Polly, who married a certain William McBrazer, from whom she was subsequently divorced after having one son and two daughters; the youngest of whom is 20 years old; and was married the other day to Doctor John Welch, who is an excellent scholar, and clever fellow.

Benjamin Lowen is living where he married his wife in Franklin County; the place where we ate breakfast together on the 17th day of March, 1816, when I was going to St. Louis, and accompanied Ben, for the purpose of seeing him married. The night before, you will remember, we stayed at old Mr. Carroll's, where a setting hen was robbed of her eggs for our suppers. That was a notable night.

Sister Agness (your aunt) married Joshua Hudson, by whom she had ten children: two sons, and eight daughters, to-wit:

1. James Hudson
2. Sally Hudson
3. David Hudson
4. Fanny Hudson
5. Margaret Hudson
6. Mildred Hudson
- 7.
- 8.
- 9.
- 10.

The eldest son James Hudson lived to be more than 40 years of age, and then died. Sally Hudson married her cousin, Francis Lowen, Jr. David Hudson married a daughter of General John South, of Fayette County. He moved to Missouri some fifteen years ago, where he died about ten years since; leaving his widow, and one single daughter only.

26

Shortly after David's death, Brother Joshua Hudson, his father, went to Missouri to live with his widow, where he also died, very shortly thereafter. Sister Agness died about 14 years ago. Brother Ambrose Bourne (your uncle) died in 1823; in the month of October. He had married his third wife, by whom he had one child. The widow and child are both long since dead. The children by his first two wives, I know but little about, being at such a distance from them. But so far as I know or have heard, they are all doing very well.

"Sister Philadelphia Bristow (your aunt) has been dead about 18 years; and your uncle, Archibald Bristow has been dead some months as I have lately understood. He died in Bourbon County, at one of his sons-in-law. He was married to my sister Philadelphia in 1797.

"Your father, Abner Young, was married to my sister Frances, who we always called Fanny (your mother) in the year 1792, by Thomas Ammon, a Baptist Preacher, remarkable for his large stature, and still more remarkable for his loud voice when preaching.

"I do not know who married my father and mother (your grandfather and grandmother Bourne), but he was some Episcopalian minister of course, as they both belonged to the Church of England at that time, and the name of Baptist had not up to that period found its way into that part of Virginia.

"Brother John Bourne lives one and a half miles from this place (Nicholasville). He married Betsy Arnold in 1801, by whom he has had seven sons, and four daughters. Two sons and one daughter are dead. The rest are all living. One son resides in Missouri, and the rest of the children are all residing in Jessamine County. The eldest daughter, Polinor, is now the widow Ballard; she has four children and resides in Nicholasville. Children are:

1. John
2. Tom
3. Pallie - N.Y. man alive. Visited by John Morgan when he came thru Nicholasville.
4. Houston

"The most of the children are yet single; the youngest being 25 years of age.

"Brother Abner Bourne was married to Betsy Haydon, in 1791, by whom he has had seven sons, and one daughter. One son died when young. The rest are all alive, and living perhaps in Lewis County, Missouri, or the next county above, where sister Betsy died last summer (A.D. 1846) aged about 76 years. Brother Abner is now (1847) in his 79th year, and is quite active for a person of that age. He, brother John, and myself, are all of ten, who are now living. I do not know at present what further Biographical sketches I can furnish you with, and these are all from memory, but true, as far as they go.

"I will add however in continuation of our family history, that my father Francis Bourne (your grandfather) first came to Kentucky in the year 1780; stayed about three months at Boonesborough; and explored the surrounding county, killing many deer and buffalo; as he was within my time an excellent hunter, and passionately fond of a gun. The buffalo he killed on that occasion were mostly very poor, as that was the Spring after the memorable hard winter of 1779-80.

"My father was much pleased with the country; its fertile lands, and beautiful water courses, but in consequence of Indian hostilities, he deemed it, at that time imprudent to bring out his family. But four years afterwards he with many other emigrants bid adieu to old Virginia, and started for the wilds of Kentucky. He purchased 400 acres of land, situate in the now County of Jessamine, without having seen it, or any person who had, and after a fatiguing journey of more than three months, arrived safely; found his land; was pleased with it; and his bones now rest beneath the green turf at the place where he made his first settlement.

"He died July 20th, 1803. My mother died in February 1816.

"When we first settled in Kentucky, only five or six families then lived within the bounds of the now County of Jessamine, and they were far apart. Not a mill, nor any breadstuff to be had nearer than 25 miles, in Lincoln County. The Kentucky river to cross, with high cliffs to pass, which were at that time early day a task not easily performed. The present generation know nothing of the difficulties, privations, and dangers, which were encountered and endured by the first settlers of this country.

The first work my father did, was to make a "hand mill", of limestone rock. He had brought picks with him for that purpose, knowing what we should want; and for four years this was our only dependence for meal and flour; and a very good makeshift it was for us. The neighbors for miles around were glad to have the benefit of this "Handmill". At the end of four years my father and brother William Bourne, made a water mill, which is a fine mill even to this day.

The company which came through the wilderness with my father's family consisted of about 300 persons; mostly women, children, and negroes; not many guns or efficient gunners; and no real Indian fighters among us. So that the whole company would have fallen an easy prey to 15 or 20 Indians. But it so happened, that while the Indians were killing and destroying emigrating companies both before and behind us, they did not discover or molest our defenseless company on the whole route. Our whole company however came very near starving to death, when the friendly settlers then living at the "Crab Orchard", heard of our situation, loaded some horses with meat and pumpkins, bread, and came to our relief. They met us about 80 miles from the "Crab Orchard"; which place we could never have reached, had it not been for this friendly, and well-timed relief.

I had very near forgotten to give you some biographical sketch of my own family. I have seven children living and two daughters dead. My daughter Isabella Bourne died 15 years ago, aged 13 years; which caused me many a pang. I doted on her much, perhaps too much. My daughter Margaret married Charles Cosby, had one son aged 6 years and died three years ago. My eldest son Andrew married Nancy Bishop of Owen County, who died four years ago, leaving two children, a boy aged six years, and a girl aged eight years. We are now living together in Nicholasville; these children are going to school, and my old wife acts the part of mother and grandmother towards them. I have one son nearly 40 years of age, who has not married, and shows no disposition that way.

"I have another son, Washington, who married Nancy Todd of Owen County, 18 years ago. He now lives in that county, and is doing very well. They have only two children. My daughter Caroline married Mahlon Rogers. They live in Danville, Kentucky, and have four children.

"My youngest daughter Lucy, married James Dickerson, has four children, and lives in the neighborhood of Nicholasville.

"For my own part, I have passed through many vicissitudes within the last few years. Until within the last 18 months, I lived in Danville nearly five years. Within the last three years I have been twice to New Orleans, to the City of Mobile 200 miles East of New Orleans into the State of Alabama; to the Attakafer County, and so back again to Kentucky.

"The last trip I came back in June, 1846, in more than ordinary good health. Shortly thereafter, I was taken down with the bilious fever, and was confined to my bed for three months; from which sickness I have scarcely yet recovered. I cannot enter into a detail of the reasons which carried me on these long journeys at my age and time of life - suffice it that I had business, and saw a great many novel sights of various kinds during my absence.

"I have with pleasure heard of your good luck as I choose to call it, in getting a good office at Washington, under the Administration of the best of Presidents. I hope you may long live to enjoy the benefit of your new station, and when James K. Polk's term of office shall expire, may we only see his place filled by something like an equal. My old and much respected friend Col. James A. McClure, is now sitting by me, and seems to be in a great hurry to get back to Washington City, and I must hasten to a close. My head is now giddy and I write so little, that I scarcely know what I have written but you must take it as you find it.

"I was more than glad when I heard that my old friend and schoolmate (Col. McClure) had fallen under your jurisdiction. I now know that he will be well treated. I hold him good enough for a President. The next who demands my attention is Gen. John H. McCalla, who as Alexander said of Hephestion, "he would make another Alexander", so would John make an excellent President. Give my respects to him if you please.

"Please present my most affectionately to your wife and daughters, and to your brother Coleby and his family.

"I must refer you for scraps of news to my friend, Colonel McClure, such as I cannot now write; and in the meantime you will receive the assurance of my esteem and affection.

Your affectionate Uncle

Daniel Bourne

WILL BOOK L PAGE 63, Franklin Co., Ky. Dec. 12, 1809

Will of Andrew Bourne.

Reflecting that it is appointed to all men once to die, I Andrew Bourne do make and ordain this my last will and testament - - -

119

It is my will that my son Andrew Bourne of Va. shall, as soon as he arrives at the age of twenty-one have the benefit of half the bond with the interest that may be due thereon which is due me from Joseph and George Morton. The whole bond amounting to £ 200 bearing date January, 1791 and now in the hands of Wm. Morton of Orange County, Va., who has the disposal of the other half agreeable to a contract existing between me and the said Morton in the year 1797, with interest from that date.

I also bequeath to the said son Andrew a bond on Wm. Morton of Orange Co., Va. of £ 95, 2.5, & 6. p. dated 11th June 1797, I will to the same son Andrew an obligation on Wm. Morton of Orange Co., Va. for Eleven pounds, the price of a horse sold John Mitchell, also ten dollars said Morton assumed to pay me on account of Alexander Downing and a balance of a bond due from Benjamin Hawkins, which bond is in the care of said Morton.

I order and it is my will that my wife, Eleanor Bourne, have the negro woman Charlotte to be under her control so long as she shall remain in a state of widowhood if my said wife should marry or die, then the girl Charlotte is at liberty to choose which of my four children she will live with. I bequeath to my wife one bed and furniture, also one cow and calf.

To my daughter Polly Bourne I give and bequeath my negro girl Silby and Betty to her and her heirs forever also to the same one bed and furniture to her and her heirs forever.

To my son John Bourne I give and bequeath my negro boy Phill, also one half of the tract of land on which I have lived or an equal division of such part of the same as shall be saved out of the Locators part of my entry made in the name of William Walton on Seven Creek by William Stafford, to him and to his heirs forever.

To my son William Bourne, I give my negro man Peter and an equal division of the land above described - - -

To my daughter Sally Bourne I give and bequeath my negro girl Letty and one bed and furniture to her and to her heirs - - -

It is my will that my Executors collect a Bond

LETTER TO J. M. BOURNE.

Ep., Ky., March , 1892

My dear Cousin.

In conformity to your wish I give you a history of the Bournes as far as I know. I heard my father in law say that over one hundred years ago his father, Andrew Bourne came from Virginia to Kentucky. There were four brothers that left Virginia about the same time, one by the name James Bourne, which I think is your Great Grand father.

As they were all accustomed to name their children alike after their kindred, they agreed among themselves that one branch of the family should add an 4 to their names to prevent mistakes as to letters. E

Andrew Bourne had two sons and two daughters, named John and William, Sallie, who married a man by the name of West, and Pollie, who married John Glass.

John Bourne had the following Children:

1. Pollie, who married Wm. Thornsberry and left three children, viz, John, George, and America, who has married a man by the name Rol Marston.
2. America, who married Sidney Rowlett, having five daughters, Sallie, Lue (who is dead), Anna, Varanda and Ellie.
3. Nancy, who married Wm. Walker who having eight children living, viz: Lizzie that married John H. Sea, America married Rob. Kemper, T. Y. Walker, Robt. T. Walker, A. B. Walker, Evert Walker, Mattie and Rozie who lately married a man by the name of Nat. Armstrong.
4. Barbara A., who married first Mr. Warren Foster, and had one son, viz, Dr. T. Breck Foster, and then married Eld Lewis H. Salin by whom she had three sons, viz, Eugene, Morton and Willie.
5. Mason, who married Miss Sallie Duvall and have one daughter Allie.
6. John Morton who married Miss Allen Wingate and had seven children, viz, Walter, Sena who married W. C. Kenny;

Rozie who married Frank Tones; John, Morton, Albert and Barbara.

7. W. Richard, married Cynthia Lee to whom was born, Ella who married Elijah Brissey. Dina who married L. Sparks, Robert, Rolland, Maranda, Nannie, Edward, Jessy and Mason.

8. Lizzie, who married Dr. Cull, who has since died.

9. Olandro, who married first Miss Hill and by her, had two sons; Jeffry and Charley and then Miss Bettie Duvall to whom was born, Lizzie, Acton, Willie, Hallie, Leora and Samuel.

10. Sallie, who married Frank Thurman and whose children are named as follows: Lawrence, Bessy, John, William, Anna, Maud, Barker, Walter and Lillian.

William Bourne, the brother of John Bourne had four sons and four daughters who were named as follows: Andrew, James, John and Jessie, Elizabeth, Sorrelida, Patsy Ellen, and Lucy. All the sons are dead and Patzy Ellen who had married Thos. Harrison to whom was born Jessy, Hollace, Clarence.

Andrew moved to Texas where he died, leaving the following children, Read, William, John, David, Nancy, Susan, Alma, Iddie, Eddy and Attie.

James who died a few weeks ago, left behind him the following Children: Brish, Gratz, Major, Orlando, Scott, Ewal, Andrew and Ruth.

Dr. Jessy who has been dead for some years whose family consists of the following children: Otto, Reuben, Lycircus, Mattie, Emma, Lulie and Nannie. John Bourne has died without ever marrying.

Elizabeth Wilkerson who has four children, viz: Bell, Lucy, Stokley and Willie.

Sorelda Wilkerson has only two daughters, Hellen and Alice Dickerson.

Lucy Kompor has Attie Thompson, Boll, Lizzie and Charley.

Henry West is the only child living of Mrs. Sallie West.

Polly Glass, left these children, Andrew, Harry, John, Thomas.

I send you these and if I hear of others I will send them to you. Any question you wish to ask do so, and I give you all the light I can.

Your cousin,

Lewis H. Salin

My love to all.

The names of Brothers and Sister of Andrew Bourne. I have heard Col. John Bourne mentioned once their names in my presence, but I remember none now but his father Andrew and your Grandpa James, it is impossible to give you date and death of Andrew Bourne as the old house was burned and the Record with it. Morton Bourne was my brother in law who died at the age of about 54 in '87. Uncle William Bourne married Nancy Threlkeld and John was his son who kept Bar on the boat 'The Door'. Morton Bourne's Widow married (Maranda Duvall) again a man by the name of Church Forsee and lives on the Kentucky River - as far as the date of their births, I am in the dark. Your Grandpa Walker had four sisters. One by the name of Betsy, who married Belfield Glass of Owen and left ~~xxx~~ John, Boshe and French, Millie who married Couborn, Mollie who married Jamison and Mandy who married a Glass, _____ Susan Bourne who married Ben Glass, my wife's Grandpa and after he died she married a Mr. Caves. They had Betzy Glass who married John Bourne. Polly who married Lewis White, died in Missouri a few years ago leaving one child, Mrs. Mary Margareth Lockhard of Wellington, Mo. Nancy Glass who married Nash Adkins, both died in Scott County, Ky., having three children, Elizabeth Leach, C. Wm. Adkins that is now living near Oxford, Scott County, Ky., and Ansorene who married Wm. Barclay. Barbara Glass who married Dr. Joe Lee, and her brother Henry Glass and Belfield Glass.

J. M. Bourne, Esq.,
Louisville, Ky.

Dear Sir:

Mr. Elijah B. Muir handed me your letter of March 23rd a few days since. I take pleasure in answering your inquiries about the Bourne family as far as I know.

Francis Bourne was the eldest son of Andrew Bourne of Culpeper County, Va., was born on the 5th of July 1727 and was married to Frances Christopher in 1757. His wife was also born in Culpeper County, Va., in 1736. Francis Bourne and his family in Fayette County embracing the present limits of Jessamine County in the year 1783, where both of them died. He died July 20th, 1813 and she died on the 8th of Feb., 1816. Francis Bourne had a brother Andrew, who was the father of Elijah Bourne, who settled in Kentucky about the year 1786. Elijah Bourne, Grandfather of Elijah B. Muir, was the youngest son of Andrew Bourne, died at the residence of his youngest son, Davis Bourne in 1854, aged 86 years. Old Francis Bourne, his uncle, was the father of ten children, five sons and five daughters. Tobitha Bourne was born in Virginia in 1758, William Bourne, 1767, Agnes 1771, Lucy in 1769, Ambrose in 1773, Fanny in 1776, she was the grandmother of Richard M. Young, Philadelphia Bourne born in 1778, John Bourne father of the late Isaac Bourne was born in 1780, Daniel Bourne the youngest son was born Oct. 10th, 1783. His father Francis Bourne was 57 years old when Daniel was born. Tobitha Bourne married William White in 1791 and died in 1792, leaving one child named after her mother, Tobitha White. She at the usual age married Morton Bourne and moved to Marion County, Mo., in 1832, where she died in 1843. William Bourne died in 1804, leaving nine children, seven sons and two daughters, all died in 1847, except the two eldest. Fanny Bourne and Nancy Hoskins, the latter the widow of William Bourne, died in 1845. She was in her 81st year. Her maiden name was Hawkins, sister of Moses Hawkins, who died in 1832. Lucy Bourne married Francis Lowens in 1784. They had thirteen children, all died in our county many years ago. Agnes Bourne married Rev. Joshua Hudson. Mr. Hudson was a Baptist Preacher, died in 1845. Abner Bourne married Elizabeth Haydon in 1791, by whom he had seven sons and one daughter, one son died young. The others were living in Clark Co., Mo. His wife died in 1846, aged 76. He was living in 1847 but of course has long since passed away. The names of his two sons were Levi and Whitfield, Ambrose Bourne was a Baptist Preacher, he married three wives in the course of his life, and died in SouthWestern Kentucky in 1823, leaving several children, among them Mrs. Grizzard. Fanny Bourne grandmother to R. M. Young married Abner Young in 1792, they had nine children, four sons and five daughters. Mary, Richard M., Sally, Louisa Ann, Agnes, John, Jefferson, Colby, Maria, all dead. Philadelphia Bourne married Archibald Bristow June 28, 1797, by whom he had twelve children: Archibald Bristow died in 1846 and his wife many years before. Francis M. Bristow was a member of Congress in 1847 and 1853 was one of his sons, and was born two miles East of Nicholasville on the farm now owned by the widow of Davis Bourne. He was born in 1798, married a Miss Helm, was father of Benj. H. Bristow whose name in 1875 was honorably mentioned as a Presidential Candidate ~~in 1875~~ to succeed Gen. Grant. John Bourne married Elizabeth Arnold in 1801, they had seven sons and four daughters, all dead except Miss Lucy and John Milton. Daniel Bourne married Margaret Dillon in 1800. He had seven children, one of his eldest died in 1832. Margaret married Charles Cosby, His eldest son, Andrew, married Nancy Bishop. She died in 1842 leaving one son, Morton L. and Isabella, Francis M. Bourne of Lawrenceburg is the only one of Daniel Bourne's children living. You inquire what were the brothers and sisters of Elijah Bourne. Elijah Bourne had a sister Lucy who married Francis Lowens in 1784. They had thirteen children, all died in Jessamine County. His sister Agnes married as above stated Rev. Joshua Hudson. Elijah Bourne was born in Virginia in or about the year 1775, and died in 1854. He married his cousin, Nancy Lowens, the daughter of Francis Lowens who was born in Bath County, Va. in 1748. If I am not mistaken Elijah Bourne married in 1802. After the death of his first wife in 1835 he married Sallie Egbert. She died, I think, in 1839, he never married again. I knew him personally. He was one of the most remarkable men I ever saw. He never told a falsehood, and had no patience with those who were inclined to exaggerate, or backbite. He was strictly an honest man in every relation of life. If you think this information worthy of two dollars and fifty cents you can send me that sum, as I follow getting up such sketches for newspapers.

Very truly,

Samuel M. Duncan.

BOURNES.

Nicholasville, Ky.,
Jan. 1st, 1893

Dear Sir:

Your letter of Dec. 8, '92, I have had in my possession sometime and would have answered sooner, but I have waited in order to see some of the Grand-children of Elijah Bourne who was the only one of that first generation of the Bournes family that I knew. He died in 1854, his son James Bourne married my sister, Catherine, in 1847. She is living, he died in 1869. Daniel Bourne was the son of Francis Bourne. Andrew Bourne and Francis were brothers. Andrew Bourne was the father of Elijah Bourne. Catherine Bourne, who died in 1833, and her grave is yet to be seen, was the wife of Wm. Bourne, who was born in 1753, and died according to inscription, on the grave stone, in 1826. I never heard of James Bourne, who was of the first generation that settled in Kentucky about the close of the last century. I have a cousin, Mr. S. U. Duncan, who might perhaps give you valuable information on the subject. He studies such things and I do not.

To the Honorable Robert Nelson esquire
Chancellor, for the Fredericksburg District.

Bourn
Your oratrix Eleanor Brown humbly complaining sheweth unto your Honor that your oratrix' father died on or about the ____ day of ____ 1774, possessed of a few slaves and a small personal estate leaving his widow Eleanor Brown and eight children to-wit, John, Susan, who intermarried with Benjamin Foushee, Mary, who intermarried with Alexander Deale, Jane, who intermarried with Lewis Perry, Hannah, who intermarried with Reuben Bourn, Catharine, who intermarried with Wm. Brown, Elizabeth and Joseph, that the administration of the said John Bourn was duly committed by the County Court of Culpeper to the said Eleanor the widow and John the son as will more fully appear by the annexed certificate of the Clerk of the County Court of Culpeper, that they caused the said Estate to be appraised and returned the same to the County Court of Culpeper, a Certified copy of which is herewith filed as a part of this bill, that the said Eleanor Bourn, the administratrix, died about the ____ day of ____ 17, and no one ever administered upon her estate as your oratrix is informed and believes; that the said John Bourn alone managed and transacted the business of the estate and possessed himself of the whole of his intestates estate your oratrix believes that all the Children of the said John Bourn except herself have received their proportion or the greater part thereof, that your oratrix at the time of her father's death was an infant of tender years and removed to the State of Kentucky before she became of age, and hath never received one cent from the estate of her father, that the said John Bourn the administrator on or about the ____ day of ____ 17, sold to a certain Kemp Porter two slaves belonging to the estate of her father for $1,000. which is still due with interest, and which has been tied up in his hands during his life and since his death in the hands of his administrator in order to prevent the said administrator, John Bourn from getting possession thereof that this is the only property belonging to the estate of his father undisposed of by the administrator who is insolvent and his securities long since dead.

That the said Kemp Porter died interstate on or about the ____ day of ____ 1, and a certain John Allcock and Joseph Allcock administered upon his estate, that Joseph Allcock is now dead having made his last will and testament whereby he appointed John Wharton his Executor who now holds the money in his hands to pay for the said slaves and is willing to pay the same to any one this Honorable Court shall direct but notwithstanding your oratrix is still kept out of her just rights all which is contrary to equity. In tender consideration whereof and for as much as your oratrix is remediless in the premises without the aid of this Court where matters of this kind are properly cognizable and relievable, to the end therefore that the said John Bourn in his own Right and as admr. of John Bourn decd., Benj. Foushee and Sarah his wife, Alexander Deale and Mary his wife, Lewis Perry and Jane his wife, Reuben Bourn and Hannah his wife, Wm. Bourn and Catharine his wife, Elizabeth Bourn and Joseph Bourn, John Allcock surviving admr. of Kemp Porter and John Wharton, Executor of Joseph Allcock, who was one of the Admr. of Kemp Porter may be made defendants hereto and may thru answers make to all the premises as fully as of the same wise again asked and interrogated and that the said John Wharton executor as aforesaid may be restrained from paying away the money so due by his testator, for the slaves aforesaid that your oratrix may be paid her proportion of her father's estate with interest out of the funds in the hands of the said John Wharton or that she may have such other and further relief as to the Court shall seem just and right. May it please your Honor to grant unto your Oratrix the Commonwealths writ of subpa &c.

against

John Bourn, in his own rights and as administrator of John Bourn, deceased, Benjamin Foushee & Sarah his wife, Alexander Deale & Mary his wife, Lewis Perry & Jane his wife, Reuben Bourn & Hannah his wife, William Bourn & Catharine his wife, Elizabeth Bourn, Joseph Bourn, John Allcock, surviving administrator of Kemp Porter, deceased, and John Wharton, executor of Joseph Allcock, who was one of the administrators of Kemp Porter, deceased, defendants.

This cause came on this day to be heard by consent of the parties, by counsel, upon the bill, answers of the defendants John Bourn & John Wharton & exhibits, and was argued by counsel. On consideration whereof, the Court being of opinion that as the defendant John Bourn, administrator of John Bourn, deceased, was not authorized to sell the slaves of his interstate unless it was necessary for the payment of debts, he was guilty of a fraud upon the distributors of the said John Bourn, deceased, by selling the slaves in the proceedings mentioned for the purpose of paying his individual debts, and that the said Kemp Porter was a party to the fraud with a knowledge of the facts, the Court would now set aside the sale direct an account of the hires of the slaves, but the plaintiff agreeing to sanction the sale, it is to stand, and interest is to be allowed on the purchase money, from the 2nd day of January, 1801, till paid, & in adjusting the respective liabilities of the defendants in relation to the interest, the parties are to be charged therewith according to the respective periods in which they respectively held the purchase money in their hands. The Court doth therefore adjudge, order & decree, that the defendant John Wharton, who admits by his answer that he holds the purchase money & is ready to pay the same, do pay to the plaintiff three hundred dollars with interest on one hundred dollars, part thereof, from the 9th day of April, 1817, until paid, and the costs by the plaintiff expended in prosecuting this suit; to be paid out of the purchase money & interest thereon of sufficient thereof remain after holding in his hands enough to discharge the debt, interest & costs for the recovery of which out of the purchase money it is admitted that a suit is now depending in the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Virginia and the parties agreeing to waive the taking of the proper accounts for the present liberty is reserved to them to apply here for that purpose if it shall become necessary.

Mr. James M. Bourne,
Owenton, Ky.

Respected Sir:

Upon the reception of your letter to me dated Feb. 24th I was anticipating a trip to this County to visit my niece, Mrs. Britton, and concluded to defer answering it until I came here thinking possibly I might gain more information. I now hasten to reply; being the youngest of 8 children I remember but little of my ancestry. My grandfather's christian name has quite passed out of my mind but I really think it was Alexander, he married Frances Bourne. They left 4 sons and 1 daughter named Jane, and married March 3, 1796 to Ambrose Bourne. I think she married a Morton. My grandmother, Frances Bourne, was 1st cousin to Mr. Wm. "Billy" Morton. He married in early life but soon lost his wife. Her maiden name was Millie but do not know her surname. He never married again. I enclose you a copy of the inscription on his tomb stone. There were several families of Bournes in my young days, a Mr. Joseph Bourne and Jack Bourne brothers. They were quite illiterate. Joe married a Miss Gipson. Jack never married. If they were related to us I never knew it. There was another family Andrew Bourne, he was quite well to do, owned many slaves, he was very eccentric. His son John was a carpenter, they moved from Orange County to Kentucky about 1849, or 50, since which time I have lost sight of them.

Mr. William Morton was 1st cousin to my Grandmother Frances Bourne Newman. I. W. Morton of Orange was Nephew to William Morton. There were several brothers of I. W. Mortons but I have lost sight of them long since. My oldest brother, Alexander, was elected to Congress in 1849, but died of cholera the following July. His oldest son William A. Newman is still living in Wetzel County, W. Va., P. O. Pine Grove. His youngest Lewis Newman, is living in Moundsville, Marshall Co. My second brother George moved to Kentucky and married a Miss Bibb, he left 4 children, 2 sons and 2 daughters. One son was named Thomas, the other I have forgotten. His youngest daughter was named Sarah. She married a Methodist preacher. I have not heard from them for several years, my health grew very bad and I lost my only child, a son, 29 years old and I almost forgot to live. He was a noble boy named Curran Langdon Clore. My oldest sister Jane married Mr. John Bourne of Frederick County, who was son of Mr. Wm. Bourne, who was a brother of my grandmother, Frances Bourne. I remember when I was quite young my father pointed out to me on the Culpeper side of the river, probably several miles above Rackoon ford, an old house in a dilapidated condition and said that his father, as well as I can remember, used to live there. I know it was some of his near kin, but that has been a long time ago. I am now 73. I was the youngest of 8 children and I am the only one living. I call to mind when I was young, a Mr. Morton Bourne came to my father's on a visit. He was not married, claimed kin with us, called my grandma Aunt, he went to Kentucky from our house. My mother died in 1843, my father in 1862. My niece's (Mrs. Britton) father, John Bourne, died in 1879, her brother William died 1862. Will you please sire give me the name of the county post office of The McDaniel Bourne who died in Texas and if you have the paper announcing his death be pleased to send it to me as I would like to know the name of the county in which he died, also post office.

I shall only remain here a short time and then return home so any communication to me must be addressed to me Covington, Alleghany County, Virginia, should you ever pass Covington do not fail to call on me. I would be so much pleased to make your acquaintance. I hope to find a letter to me from you when I reach home.

Hoping to hear from you very soon, I am,

Most Respectfully,

Mrs. Lucetta A. Clore,
Covington, Va.

Sacred to the Memory of Wm. Morton who departed this life on the 4th day of September, 1833 in the 85th year of his age. He was the Father of the fatherless, the friend of the widow, to the poor his hand was as open as melting charity.

James M. Bourne,

Dear Sir:

Yours of April 2nd was recd. and in reply -

My father was William Bourne, born near Lexington, Ky. in 1808. His father was Ambrose Bourne. His father was Frank Bourne, who came from Virginia and settled near Nicholasville, early in the settling of Kentucky. Frank Bourne was descended from John Bourne, who came to Virginia in its early settlement, from England, and settled near Fredericksburg.

Our family in Southern Kentucky and Tennessee is large. The Youngs, Barnes, Bristows (Ben Bristow, once a prominent candidate for President) Beachs. Dr. H. E. Beach of Clarksville, Tenn.

In my next letter I will give you the address of _____ Young, who has a history of the Bourne family, written by Col. Young. ?

I wish you to write and give me the following information, if you can.

David Bourne was a soldier in the war with Mexico and died in Palo Pinto Co., Texas, leaving no heirs there, leaving a large estate. If you know of him or any one from whom I can likely get information, let me hear at once.

Respectfully,

J. A. Bourne

J. A. Bourne

The family Bible record of my great Grandfather, Frank Bourne, is said to be or was in the possession of Alexander Bourne, if so I think I can find it, which will furnish information you ask. You will find my brother, W. W. Bourne about Glover & Durrett Warehouse.

- 13 - VII Fanny Gore, 3rd married — Brantley, Southern Co. 181

All the descendants of Benjamin Gore who were able to bear arms were in the Confederate Army. Mrs. Chambers was the mother of Walker Chambers and General Thomas Jefferson Chambers, a thoroughly educated man, a fine lawyer, who gave $10,000 to the Texans in their war for Independence, and by far the most accomplished man in that war. He was an accomplished linguist and spoke Spanish as correctly as any Spaniard. Mrs. Stevens named a son, Walker Stevens. Mrs. Bourne named a son, Walker Bourne, the ancestor of Miss Stone. I know all three well. In 1870, or near that year, a Mr. Baylor, who had been a Confederate soldier, was in Springfield, Ill., making observations of the Earth's magnetism for the United States Government. He was from Eastern Virginia. I told my father of it. He replied that he was probably a kinsman, that the Walkers and Bayers had intermarried before the Revolution.

Rev. Andrew — James Bourne, 4th, and Elizabeth Gore Bourne had:

- 14 I Walker Bourne, 4th, married Willey Bennett Jameson
- 15 II Morton Bourne, 4th, married Evaline Smith, a second cousin of Willey B. Bourne.
- 16 III John Bourne, 4th, died single John 1/23 1844 James
- 17 IV Nancy Ann Bourne, 4th, died single John 1/23 1844 James

John Gore's will was also taken by the United States soldiers.

AND HIS LIBERTY LOVING COMRADES.

First Fourth of July Celebration West of the Allegheny Mountains.

The following are copies of letters which appeared sometime since in "The Sunny South", and were forwarded to that paper by Mr. S. M. Duncan, together with an explanatory Letter.

To the Editor of "The Sunny South",

One of the most remarkable men that ever settled in the present boundary of our little county, was Colonel William Price, grandfather of the late Kleben F. Price. He was born near the old town of Fredericksburg, Stafford County, Virginia, in 1755, and came with his family to Jessamine County in 1887. (Son's letter said "1782".) He was the father of Captain James C. Price, who commanded a company of infantry from Jessamine County in the disastrous battle of the Raisin, January 18, 1813; he was killed and afterwards scalped by the Indians.

Colonel Price, like Governor Shelby, was descended from Welsh Baptists, who settled in Virginia in 1720. He was a boy of fourteen (1768), on the streets of Fredericksburg, when the Rev. John Waller and Lewis Craig were lodged in Fredericksburg jail for preaching Baptist doctrines. The arbitrary arrest of his Baptist friends and neighbors by the officers of the Episcopal Church in the Colonial day of Virginia, had the effect of making him a most inveterate enemy of all who were connected or in sympathy with the Church of England.

The following letters which were given to me by the late Lewis Lampkins, his son-in-law, and John Lancaster, of Keene, more than thirty years ago, are very interesting. His letter inviting Governor Shelby to celebrate the glorious birthday of American Independence.

Lewis Craig led the famous moving Baptist Church from Spottsylvania County, Va. to Gilbert's Creek, near Lancaster, Ky. and established the first Baptist Church in Kentucky, 1780. (See Collin's History of Kentucky.)

"Fayette County, Kentucky.
July 5, 1794.

To His Excellency, Isaac Shelby,
Governor of Kentucky,
My Esteemed Friend:

I was greatly disappointed by your not coming to my house on yesterday (July 4). We had a glorious time and a big dinner. (See list of those present further on). Forty men sat down at my tables, who had served in our late struggles for freedom and independence. It was a glorious sight to behold; and I wish King George III and Lord North could have witnessed this scene in the wilds of America.

On the return of this great and glorious birthday, of our freedom from British despotism, the heart of every patriot in the late struggle may rightfully pour forth its highest tribute to God, and all the great sages and soldiers who resolved to stake their lives and sacred honor in maintaining the Declaration of Independence.

Throughout the limits of our country -- from Massachusetts to Georgia -- the hearts of a free and happy people have been dedicated on yesterday to the contemplation of the great blessings achieved and bequeathed to us by heroic leaders as George Washington, Israel Putnam and Nathaniel Green. Such brave leaders took their lives in their hands, and "liberty or death", was inscribed on their hearts. God, in the plenitude of his beneficence, has always chosen men qualified to resist kings and tyrants in their attacks on the rights of the people. The history of our Mother is full proof of this fact, and our own country in the late war of independence, is a most brilliant illustration of the great truth that God hates all tyrants and despotic rulers, and sooner or later overthrows all such rascals, in causing the people to rise up and cut their heads off.

Truly Thy Old Friend,

William Price.

P. S. I will be in Frankfort next Monday."

GOVERNOR SHELBY'S REPLY.

"Frankfort, Ky., July 9, 1794

Col. William Price,

My dear old friend:

Your letter of July 5 was handed to me on yesterday by Captain Daniel Singleton.

I am truly grieved that I did not receive your letter in due time. Nothing would have given me more pleasure than to have been present and talked over the trials and hardships we endured in the defense of our liberty and independence.

Present my compliments to all the old veterans, also to Mrs. Price.

Truly Thine,

Isaac Shelby."

The following are the names of the Revolutionary veterans who were citizens of what is now Jessamine County, and were present at the first Fourth of July celebration in Kentucky, and the first West of the Allegheny Mountains. Their names are recorded in an old blank book presented to me by the late John Kancaster, thirty-five years ago. Such a list of patriots should be preserved and handed down to future generations.

Col. Price was in the Revolutionary war from its commencement to its close. He was a lieutenant at the battle of Stony Point, and was also a captain at the battle of Brandywine, Germantown, Monmouth and Princeton. He rose to the rank of Major, and was at the surrender of Lord Cornwallis, October 19, 1781. As before stated, his hostility to the church of England increased as he grew older. Captain Edward Payne,

Overseer at Gunston Hall,

My dear sir:

This note is to apprise you that I invite you, and all your Baptist friends, to my house on Christmas day to partake of a big dinner of turkey and oysters, and to conclude with a dance at grandmother's in the evening.

No Episcopalians have been invited -- such people are too aristocratic and overbearing. The people who are communicants of that church try to imitate their aristocratic brethren in England in almost every act they perform. I have no patience with such harpies as the clergy of this establishment. Their titles and dignities and livings are too much like our late oppressors in the great war just closed. They must now consider that the people of the country look chiefly to the practical and useful, and not to mere empty titles, which serve no good purpose in a free country. What we want is a Church, as well as in State, is plain, practical men -- devoted men -- men who know and mingle with the people as one of themselves. We want no more English airs -- as arrogance of demeanor among neighbors.

Tell Robert Craig to bring his fiddle, as we expect a good time generally. Tell Black Tom to come by all means.

William Price."

"Price's Hall, Stafford Co., Va.
December 23, 1787.

Col. Luke Allen:

I invite you and other friends to my house on Christmas day to eat oysters and turkey. I have a barrell of peach brandy five years old, and I hope you will invite your Baptist friends to be sure and come, as I expect to leave for my new plantation in Kentucky about the 20th of January.

Our Baptist friends and the Episcopalians (that is, members of the English Church) are not very friendly, and this hatred has been aggravated since the close of the late war for Independence. With a few exceptions -- such as Bishop White, old Dr. Duche and Col. Henry Muhlenberg, most of the clergy of the British church had no sympathy with the people in the recent struggle for freedom, most of them with an obstinacy characteristic of hypocrites, would not pray for our beloved leaders, and would insist upon reading the prayer for the British King whenever they performed divine services. It is natural for all Baptists to dislike such lordly pretensions, and to despise a people who aim to copy the aristocratic airs of a church stained with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. Such a church is not suited to a liberty loving people. Any church policy or doctrine that conflicts with the free spirit of our country, cannot escape general condemnation. No form of church government that does not fall in with the prevailing principals and tastes of a freedom loving people can ever prosper in this country. We love liberty too well for such creatures to ever succeed in establishing again, by law, the religion of Britan.

Thy Old Comrade,

William Price."

"Fort Stony Point, July 17, 1779.

To

Major James Cluke,

Dear Major:

I wish that God would heal your wound, and I could once more see you among your brave comrades. On yesterday evening, July 18, after marching over the roughest country I ever saw, through deep swamps and narrow roads, we got within a mile of this fort -- which is on the west bank of the Hudson River. It was of vast importance to our enemies, and had been strengthened by every means of art that lay in their power.

At night our heroic commander, Brigadier Wayne, came among us and told us that everything depended on secrecy; and says he, "I want you men who belong to the regiments of Col. Butler and Col. Fleury to march with unloaded muskets and fixed bayonets. I will lead you myself."

The river had flooded the swamps waist deep; but when we saw our brave General go forward, and our advance of twenty men at once started forward and attacked the double palisade, when the red coats shouted in great alarm. "Here comes the d)dd rebels! shoot them!" He was instantly knocked on the head, but a terrible fire was opened on us as we advanced through the swamps. The guns from the fort scattered mud on us as well as dirty water. Their grape and round shot did no damage more than to spatter mud and water on our clothing. About this time our brave General was knocked on the head in the right temple by a spent ball. I ran to him and instantly raised him up. "March on, Lieutenant Price, carry me to the fort; I will die at the head of my men." We bore him forward near the center of the fort; and both commands met, when the shouts of victory rent the air. Our victory was complete, and was a surprise to our enemies. We lost sixty men. Joseph Campbell, of Fredericksburg was killed, also private Clow and Richard Clymor, of Philadelphia. He was a brave Dutchman. I hope he is safe in Heaven."

William Price."

Colonel Price died at his residence, six miles East of Nicholasville, Kentucky, October 10th, 1808. He left many descendants who are now scattered over the South and West. In the late civil war his descendants in Missouri were on the Southern side. In Illinois and Indiana they were on the side of the Union. Such is civil war.

Samuel M. Duncan."

P.S. I see in the Sunny South of April 28th, that Col.

W. P. Price of Dahlonaga, Ga., has written a very interesting notice of the duel between Crawford and Burnside in 1828. General Burnside, through his cousin, J.O.P. Burnside, furnished me the facts as I gave them to you; but as he never saw his uncle, I am certain that Col. Price has given the real facts of his uncle's death. S.M.D."

COLONEL WILLIAM PRICE.

An interesting letter, from one of his far-away descendants.

"Editor of Sunny South:

A few days ago we accidentally discovered the Sunny South of May 26th, 1888. It contained an account of the life and a few of the letters of Colonel William Price. He was my grandfather. My father was Ebenezer Price, one of the "Pioneers of Missouri" -- came out in 1825.

The paper came to light on the day of the family reunion of our family and was read with much interest. My father had the sword carried by my grandfather, William, in the Revolution, and also by my Uncle James Price in the War of 1812. A comrade brought it all the way to Kentucky to my father.

My son, E.L. Wilhite, made some patriotic speeches when a little fellow and my father said he was worthy of his grandfather's historical sword and it is now in his possession at my home. Pardon me for consuming your time in telling this, but some of his southern descendants may be interested in hearing. It has quite a history through the late war. x x x x

SP

J. S. BOURNE,
Attorney-at-Law,
First floor of courthouse

Independence, Va.,
June 15th, 1918.

Prof. W. R. Bourne,
Nashville, Tenn.

Dear Mr. Bourne:-

My delay in sending you what data I have in connection with my part of the Bourne family is due to the fact that I have had to write to several places in order to get the data. From the data that I have, I am only able to trace our family back to my Great, Great Grandfather James Bourne, of Culpepper County, Va. A history of the prominent families of Montgomery County, Kentucky, has the following to say with reference to Walker Bourne, who was my Great Grandfather, to-wit:

"Walker Bourne, was born on the Rapidan River in Culpepper County, Va., May 5th, 1790. When 7 years old he came to Kentucky with his father, James Bourne, who was a soldier of the Revolution, and settled on Spencer Creek in Montgomery County. In 1818 he moved to the farm in the same county, where he died, near Springfield church. For many years he was a Magistrate of Montgomery County, and also High Sheriff. He was a soldier in the war of 1812, and was at the battle of the Thames. But his enduring fame rests upon his eminence as a teacher. This profession he followed for many years and with great success. He had the rare faculty of inspiring young men committed to his care with a zeal for knowledge. He appealed to them by the examples of the great men of all ages, with whose lives and histories he was familiar. He made the boys his companions; got close up to their hearts and filled them with an enthusiasm for distinction that propelled them along the path of success. The result was that more young men were turned out from his school who have since risen to eminence in the various learned professions than from any other school in Kentucky. Among his pupils were Richard H. Menefee, Dr. W. W. Hill, Henry S. Lane, John Janeson and Albert G. Harrison.

"After Menefee had made one of the most brilliant efforts of his life he remarked to Dr. Hill that he was more indebted for the eminence to which he had risen to the influence exerted upon him at the County School by their old teacher, than to any other one cause. Mr. Menefee always spoke of Mr. Bourne with the profoundest respect, as did all his pupils, and expressed the earnest wish that Kentucky had more such teachers. Squire Bourne died February 6th, 1873 in the 83rd year of his age. He was thrice married - First to Kitty Berkley; next to Clarisa Payne; and last to Willie B. Jameson, sister of the late Milton Jameson. She is still living. He had sixteen children, six of whom survived him. He was a life long Democrat, and for more than forty years he was a consistent member of the Christian Church, and by his Christian walk and conversation has proved an honor to his church and state. During his long and useful life of more than four score years, he enjoyed remarkable health, not more the result of a good constitution than to the most temperate and regular habits of life. And even when death came to summons him home his eyes were not dim, nor his natural force abated. It were idle to pronounce any eulogy on his life character. He needs none. The simple narrative of his four score and three years of honor and usefulness is an eulogium such as pronounced upon but few of his race. His words of wisdom and moderation, his deeds of kindness and charity, his pure friendships and untarnished name - these are the enduring monuments he erected to his memory - more lasting than marble. They are a rich legacy to his children, who for generations will rise up and call him blessed. Full of years and honors he has gone to his reward - Like a golden harvest of ripe sheaves he has been gathered to his father, and if we would meet him again we must seek him where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest".

The following is what the Kentucky Sentinel published at Mt. Sterling, Ky.; said about my Grandfather William H. Bourne in February Issue 1886, who died at Springfield, Ill. on the 5th of February, 1886. This article was written by the Rev. E.O. Guerrant, D.D., of Kentucky, to-wit:

"William H. Bourne formerly of this, Montgomery County, died at his residence in Springfield, Ill. on February 5th in the 65th year of his age. Many people of this county will remember Will Bourne, and he deserved to be remembered, by all who love a gentle, kind, benevolent man. He was the son of Walker Bourne,

Esq. one of the first and most useful citizens of this county, and was born October 3rd, 1821. His Mother, a most excellent lady, was an aunt of Squire B.F. and George Berkley, and Mrs. Nann White. William Bourne received a liberal education, principally from his father, who was one of the most successful educators of the State. On September 12th, 1844, he married Caroline, the daughter of General Samuel Stone, and half sister of Hon. H. L. Stone, of Louisville. She lived only three years, leaving two little boys at the time of her death, September 7th, 1847, the youngest one five months old. These sons, Henry G. and Albert M. now grown and useful men, living near Wytheville, Va. His second wife was Miss Ann E. Illes, of Springfield, Ill., a faithful and devoted wife, who with five children survive him, and mourn his loss. For many years he lived on a fine plantation near Springfield Church, in Bath County, but in 1876 removed with his family to Springfield, Ill., where he died. This is a brief record of as gentle, kind hearted, amiable a man as ever lived in this land. While he suffered loss from others less scrupulous, he was transparently honest and sincere in all his dealings. His fellow citizens entrusted him safely with the most responsible offices, and he never betrayed a trust. Those who knew Will best, loved him most. He had his faults, but they all leaned to virtue's side.

*intermarried
sister
G. Stone*

He was generous to prodigality; he was transparent and guiltless to a fault; men imposed upon his very goodness and unsuspecting nature. In his morals he was irreproachable, in his judgments always charitable. There was no better friend or father, or husband, than clever Will Bourne, whose very misfortunes were the children of his charities. He leaves behind him a devoted family and many warm friends, who will keep his memory green in grateful hearts. We hope he has gone to a bright reward where charity is the greatest of all the virtues. To his family and kindred and friends we extend the sincerest sympathy of a friend who knew him well.

Henry G. Mentioned in the above notice is my father, and Albert M. is my Uncle. Albert M. Bourne is now living at Mt. Sterling, Ky. and is about 71 years of age. He didn't marry until he was about 50 years old, and now has a wife and two children. My father Henry G. Bourne, died near Wytheville, Va. on the 15th of July, 1906. He was born at Mt. Sterling, Montgomery County, Ky. on the 23rd of September, 1845? He lived on the farm where he died from August 1875 until his death, having moved here from a farm on Cripple Creek, Wythe County, Va. The farm that he owned and lived on at the time of his death contained more than six hundred acres, and was one of the fine blue grass farms for which this section of Virginia is noted. The South-West Virginia Enterprise, published at Wytheville, Va. had the following to say about his death, to-wit:

At an early hour Sunday morning, Mr. Henry C. Bourne, one of Wythe County's well known and popular citizens, passed away at his home east of Wytheville after an extended illness.

The deceased was born at Mount Sterling, Kentucky, nearly sixty one years ago, but had been a resident of Virginia for about forty years. When a lad sixteen years of age, he volunteered and joined Company I, Eighth Kentucky Volunteers, which afterwards became a portion of General John H. Morgan's noted Command. In October, 1866, the year following the War, he married Miss Lizzie Simmerman, a daughter of the late J. P. M. Simmerman, and located in Wythe County, after having spent about a year in Kentucky, following his marriage. He was a man of affairs in the community in which he lived, and his name was a synonym for honesty and fair dealing with his fellow-men. He was an active and zealous member of the Methodist Church for over thirty years and will be sadly missed by the Church as well as by the entire neighborhood for his many unostentatious deeds of charity. He is survived by his wife, six sons and three daughters, viz: Hon. John Simmerman Bourne, of Independence, Va., William, Henry, Stephen, Edward and Mason Bourne, of Wytheville; Mrs. William Martin, of Wytheville; Mrs. C. W. Dickey, of Wytheville, and Mrs. H. A. Cox, of Independence.

The funeral services were held from the home Monday afternoon at 8 o'clock and the services were conducted by Rev. J. D. McAllister, his pastor, assisted by Rev. J. S. W. Neal of Marion, and Rev. W. A. Hall of Wytheville.

The interment was at the East End Cemetery in Wytheville. His six sons acted as pall bearers and the honorary pall bearers were Messrs. G. S. Bruce, J. S. Ward, F. H. Terry, Frank Owens, Robert C. Kent, Dr. S. R. Sayers, Judge J. H. Fulton, Dr. W. H. Ribble, Sr., M. H. Davidson, F. P. Chaffin and F. H. Davis.

The William Terry Camp of Confederate Veterans attended in a body, and also a delegation from the Wythe Grey Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

This gets it down to me, as will be seen above - John Simmerman Bourne - I was born about two miles South of Austinsville, Wythe Co., Virginia, on the 23rd of November, 1867, and removed with my father, Henry G. Bourne to the farm East of Wytheville, in 1875. I was educated at the Common School in the country near our home, the Wytheville Male Academy, the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, now the V.P.I. at Blacksburg, Va. and at Washington and Lee University. I received the Degree of B. L. at Washington and Lee University in June 1892 and in the Summer of 1892 commenced the practice at Wytheville, where I remained only until March 1893, when I moved to Welch, W. Va., where I remained until March 1894 when I moved to Independence, Va., where I have been ever since. On the 2nd of December 1894 I married Miss Mollie Elliott of Independence, who is still living and we have nine children, all living, six boys and three girls. I have never sought political office, but have had many honors thrust upon me. I was Chairman of the Democratic Party of Grayson County, Va. from 1900 to 1908. Refused the nomination for the Senate in the 6th Senatorial District in 1903. Refused the nomination for the House of Delegates from Grayson county in 1905. Received the endorsement of the Grayson County Bar for the Circuit Judgeship for the 21st. Judicial Circuit of Virginia in 1908, but refused to make the race. Was nominated for Commonwealths Attorney for Grayson County by Democratic Convention in my absence in 1915, but refused to accept the nomination. I have been Commissioner in Chancery and Commissioner of Accounts for the Circuit Court of Grayson county for over twenty-two years, and am still holding the position.

I have been a school official of some kind or other for the last twenty years, and am now Clerk of the County School Board. The foregoing positions do not debar me from practicing my profession, and I practice the same in all the Circuit Courts of the Commonwealth of Virginia, and cases going therefrom to the Supreme Court of Appeals.

I have thus given you a brief history of my branch of the Bourne family from myself back to my Great, Great, Grandfather, James Bourne.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. S. Bourne
